

Wildlife Nest Box Work Shop

In collaboration with the Darling Downs Environmental Council, you are invited to a hands-on workshop exploring how we can support local wildlife within our different environments.

In many of our spaces especially in suburban areas, natural tree hollows are limited. Nest boxes offer a meaningful way to give back, creating safe places for birds, possums, microbats, and other native animals to rest and raise their young over the seasons.

Join your local community supporting wildlife and caring for Country

$62 per box

Sunday, April 19, 2pm-4pm

Buru Dain Dan Eco Hut
1a Hellyer st
Rangeville

What to Expect

Together we will build a medium-sized nest box while learning practical ways to support local wildlife in our own backyards and learning environments. This will be a hands-on, guided experience where you'll gain understanding around habitat needs, placement, and care. You will leave with your own completed nest box, ready to take back to your space.

Please bring along a drill if you have one, as well as your own water and a snack for the afternoon. A small number of spare drills will be available if needed.

Special thanks to the Men's Shed for preparing the materials for this workshop.